

November Board Meeting Highlights

There was a discussion with John Smith from the Southern Oregon Fly Fishers about having our auction online. We are thinking about going this route since we are lacking an auction chair right now and no one is willing to volunteer.

The treasurers report was approved.

The minutes from October were approved.

We are currently at 166 members.

Our November outing for 4 mile lake was cancelled due to the weather. January will be coastal steelhead. February will be the Rogue with Dave McCants. The Owyhee in April and Lemolo lake in May. If anyone is interested in hosting an outing somewhere or has suggestions for outings, please reach out to Jerry Haynes.

Dale Day had a few things on conservation. The project with SOU doing fish tissue analysis is still on hold due to SOU needing a chemistry professor. There was also a project mentioned to put spawning gravel in Ashland creek.

As for the auction the only updates we have are that we need an auction chair and might have to postpone until the fall. The money from this is what runs the club. If anyone is interested in helping out, please reach out to any of the board members.

We found a host for the chili feed on New Years Day. Dale Day will be hosting the event. So make up a batch of chili and come on out.

We had a funding request from Rogue Basin Partnership that was denied by the board.

That's it for now, we'll do it again in December.
